SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

In order to take advantage of the last two days of the spring open season on bass, Walter Crawford, Greencastle fisherman extraordinary, fixed all up for a two days outing on the banks of Big Walnut. Provisions and all necessary materials for a two days stay on the creek bank were arranged and early yesterday morning, he gathered together his outfit and was driven to the creek, northeast of town by Mrs. Crawford, who returned immediately to town leaving Mr. Crawford alone with the "fishies." It was some two hours later that Mrs. Crawford received a message from her husband which was brought to town by a motorist. And the message was something like this: "Please bring out my fishing tackle and bait. I forgot to include them in my fishing expedition outfit, when I loaded up this morning." Of course, Mrs. Crawford was obliging and took Mr. Crawford's fishing tackle and bucket of bait out to him.

I got onto a new "athletic" sport yesterday, when I saw a college couple engaging in a "spitting" contest. Standing on a cement sidewalk they were using the cracks in the walk as "markers" and seeing who could "spit" the furthest. And I will admit that, although the sport is not the most elevating, they were good "spitters," especially the young man. The contest was staged on east Washington street.

Talking about "watering mouths", Alva Layton brought a basket of the most beautiful and largest mushrooms I have ever had the pleasure of not eating into the office this morning. Before he exposed them to my view he explained definitely that he had brought something that he was taking to a "widow woman," to show me, and so, of course, after he had shown me I was too much of a gentleman to rob a "widow woman" of such a treat. But it is a good thing that he was not taking them to some perfectly strong healthy fellow. In that case there would have been waged one big battle of mushrooms, right here in the office. For, honestly—and I have seen a lot of fine mushrooms—the ones Alva had this a. m., were the nicest I have ever "lamped."

No explanation of why the Federal Hospitalization commission eliminated Greencastle from the list of towns eligible for the location of the hospital has been received by the members of the Chamber of Commerce committee, which had in charge the matter of presenting the site. The action of the commission in eliminating Greencastle without even seeing the sites proposed and in virtually refusing to meet with representatives from Greencastle, is being generally condemned by the residents of this city. The commission members might have at least given the local committee members an audience and given them some reason for so unceremoniously striking Greencastle off the list.

They are telling this one on a certain candidate for office, who has been going over the county with a "pov-erty" plea as one of his stock in trade "reasons" why the folks should vote for him. One fellow listened to his story and then is reported to have replied: "Well, there certainly must be something wrong with you. You tell me you have been in business for twenty years and are qualified to serve in public office and then you tell me that without the assistance of the voter to give you the office you will not be able to educate your children. Why, I'm just a day laboring man and have to pay rent, beside, and I am able to keep my six children in school."

GOVERNOR COMMENDS
SALE OF THE POPPY
BY LEGION AND AUXILIARY

Unstinted purchase of the disabled made poppy that will be sold through out the state May 24 by the American Legion and the Auxiliary to obtain funds for needy veteran relief was recommended by Harry G. Leslie, of Lafayette, Governor of Indiana. The Legion has joined the Auxiliary in planning the sale of the tiny crimson remembrance flower May 24 to obtain added funds for the increasing number of needy veterans and their dependants in Indiana.

HOSPITAL SITE MAY BE NAMED WITHIN A WEEK

COMMITTEE RETURNS TO WASHINGTON AFTER INSPECTION OF SITES IN SEVEN INDIANA CITIES—GREENCASTLE NOT VISITED

Site of the veteran's hospital for Indiana may be announced in Washington within a week, members of the subcommittee of the Federal Hospitalization commission said yesterday after inspection of sites in seven Indiana cities.

The committee of three left Indianapolis for Washington at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after visits to proffered locations in Anderson, Muncie, Kokomo, Crawfordsville, Shelbyville, Greenfield and Indianapolis.

Col. J. J. Phelan, engineer for the veterans' bureau who remained in Indianapolis, said that the subcommittee planned to compile their findings while en route to Washington. The report will be given immediately to the commission, which will act on it and refer it to President Hoover for approval. Action of the board is expected within a few days, Col. Phelan said.

Greencastle has definitely been eliminated from the list of cities eligible to obtain the hospital in spite of the untiring efforts of the members of the Chamber of Commerce committee. The members of the committee were notified upon arrival of the inspection committee in Indianapolis that Greencastle had been eliminated. However, they were not willing to abandon their efforts to obtain the hospital, and made several attempts to get in touch with the committee members from Washington.

Up until the time the committee left Washington Sunday, Greencastle was thought to be one of the outstanding contestants for the hospital.

DR. OXNAM HAS RIGHT TO HIS VIEWS SAYS EDITOR

While we may not agree with Dr. Oxnam, president of DePauw university, in his extreme pacifist views, he has as much right to those views as his critics to their opposite views. We have little patience with persons who recognize no difference of opinion and who are not broad enough to admit there are two sides to a question. Dr. Oxnam is a law abiding citizen, so far as we know. He has not condemned the American form of government, is not an anarchist or a communist or a revolutionist. A man has the same right to be a pacifist as he does a jingo. The pacifist wants the government to go unarmed, while the jingo wants the government to be armed to the teeth at all times. One wants to settle all international difficulties by arbitration, while the other wants to fight it out. There may be a happy medium between these two extremes. We are not criticizing either the jingo of the pacifist as they present public opinion from becoming lopsided. Both of these extremists are right and both are wrong. Until Dr. Oxnam or his critics commit some crime against our government or threaten its existence we shall continue to have respect for both of them. And the opinions of each other, even though they widely disagree.—Bloomington World.

INDIANA TAXES SHOW INCREASE OF $7,201,553

INDIANA TAXPAYERS WILL PAY A TOTAL OF $151,050,088 IN TAXES FOR 1930 REPORT SHOWS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 30.—(INS)—Indiana property owners will pay a total of $151,050,088 in taxes this year or an increase of $7,201,553 over 1929, according to a report made here today by Harry Miesse, secretary of the Indiana Taxpayers' Association. The 1929 total was $3,351,916 higher than that of 1928 which in turn was $8,357,235 greater than that of 1927.

Miesse pointed out that 68 Indiana counties will collect more taxes this year than last year and that only through the activities of organized taxpayers were taxes reduced in 24 Indiana counties.

Decrying the unceasing upward swing of taxation Miesse asserted that "the story would have been even more alarming for Hoosier taxpayers had not our association been active in 1929 in its scrutiny of budgets and levies."

He pointed out that through the cooperation and assistance of the association, 125 appeals from levies were taken to the state tax board. The board ordered reductions made in 82 of these appeals and no changes were made in the remaining 43 cases. The reductions ordered saved taxpayers $3,269,091.59.

"In addition," said Miesse, "our field secretaries during their examination of budgets and before any of the budgets were adopted, made recommendations that reduced the budgets by a total of $3,926,596, thus giving the taxpayers of Indiana a grand saving of $7,195,687.59."

The 68 counties that will collect more taxes this year range from an increase of $956 in Hancock County to $1,451,976 in Marion County and $1,301,429 in Lake County. Counties that will pay less taxes in 1929 include Adams, $15,184; Blackford, $790; Boone, $28,501; Fulton, $199,888; Jay, $57,364; Morgan, $36,196; Owen, $12,874; and Wells, $40,660.

FAMOUS PASS IS CLOSED

British Sentries Guarding Arsenal Are Fired On—One Injured—Shopkeeper Killed When Bomb Explodes

BOMBAY, April 30.—(INS)—Devidas Gandhi, eldest son of Mahatma Gandhi, leader of the nationalist movement sweeping India, was sentenced to one year of rigorous imprisonment for violation of the British salt laws at Delhi today.

Devidas, second of the Mahatma's sons to be imprisoned for aiding their father's cause, received the sentence calmly.

"It is ironic that one cannot be patriotic to India without being sedition," Devidas told the court.

The struggle between Mahatma Gandhi, Indian nationalist leader and the British Indian government had tightened up today with the arrest of several leaders, the picketing of foreign liquor and cloth shops, and the apparently more militant attitude of Gandhi's followers.

Seth Govin Das, president of the war council of the central provinces, and his secretary, Pandit Misra, were arrested at Jabalpur on charges of sedition. Kala Kalellkar, head of Gandhi's university and a nationalist leader close in Gandhi's confidence, was in jail at Borsad.

Women followers of Gandhi had become increasingly active and hundreds of them paraded Bombay streets in protest against shops purchasing British-made cloth.

LONDON, April 30.—(INS)—The British government has closed Khyber Pass, excluding all visitors from the famed gateway between the northwestern frontier province of India and Afghanistan, according to a dispatch from Lahore to the Daily Mail today.

The government gave no reason for its sudden action in this critical region close to Peshawar where severe rioting recently was suppressed and two platoons of native Indian soldiers were found "unsatisfactory" and transferred.

Another dispatch, indicating that trouble had not wholly died down in Peshawar said a Sikh shopkeeper had been killed in a bomb explosion.

British sentries outside the Cross-pore arsenal, at Barrackpore, were fired on from an automobile and one was wounded, a Calcutta dispatch said.

Fifteen political suspects were arrested by police in Calcutta during the voting which unanimously re-elected Mayor Sengupta.

GLIDER RECORD BROKEN TODAY IN SAN DIEGO, CAL.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 30.—(INS)—Jack Barstow broke the world's glider record today by a sustained flight of 15 hours and 12 minutes.

The previous record of 14 hours was held by Germany.

Barstow went up at 12:44 Tuesday afternoon and landed at 3:56 a. m. today.

William Van Dusen, local representative of the National Glider Association and the National Aeronautical Society, timed the flight but in the absence of a Barograph from the glider, it is not believed Barstow's record will become official.

Likewise Barstow will be unable to claim the $2,000 award of the National Glider Association for the first sustained American flight of 10 hours or more.

The former American record was held by Hawley Bowles who made a sustained glider flight of 9 hours, 5 minutes and 27 seconds.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Cooper, who have been residing in Fillmore, have removed to Rockville, and will make that their future home.

ECONOMY TEST

averaging better than 20 miles per gallon in 200-mile run under observation of A.A.A.

Again, the new Chevrolet—A SIX—has proved itself as economical to run as any car you can buy, regardless of the number of cylinders!

In a recent 200-mile economy test, held under the observation of the American Automobile Association, a 1930 Chevrolet six-cylinder Coach won first place. It averaged better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline! At the finish, the oil level in the crankcase was the same as at the start!

And the conditions under which the victory was won make Chevrolet's record even more amazing!

A Real Achievement in Economy!

The 200-mile course followed a winding route, rising from sea level to an elevation of 6000 feet. Crowded city traffic, steep mountain grades, soft sandy stretches—road conditions that usually require more-than-average fuel consumption—all were encountered in the run. And the victorious Chevrolet not only took first place in its class, but won the sweepstakes for all classes as well!

But, as every Chevrolet owner knows, fuel mileage is only one phase of Chevrolet's sensational all-round economy. The smooth, easy power-flow of its six-cylinder motor saves the entire car from the wear-and-tear of constant vibration, prolongs its life and holds upkeep expense to a minimum. Many new factors of strength, stamina and reliability further contribute to low maintenance costs. And Chevrolet flat-rate service—available at over 10,000 Authorized Service Stations throughout America—provides the lowest charges in the industry for many service operations.

Everything Favors a Six!

Before selecting any low-priced car—consider these all-important facts: A Six is smoother, quieter and more comfortable. A Six is more flexible in traffic, and requires less shifting of gears. A Six stays young longer, assures extra thousands of miles of fine, dependable performance. And a Chevrolet Six, as every test and trial proves, is just as economical to operate and maintain as any car on the market.

PARIS, April 30.—(INS)—In France, at last, a married woman must obey her husband's orders, the Paris court ruled today in returning a verdict favorable to Nelson Morris, Chicago packing millionaire, in his damage suit against the Palace Theatre here.

Morris sued the management of the theatre, claiming it had no right to employ his wife, the former Jane Aubert, Music Hall Star, as he had forbidden her to appear on the stage while his divorce action against her was pending.

Guests of A. A. U. W.

A. A. U. W. met at Mansfield Hall Tuesday evening at 7:30 with the senior women as guests. The speaker of the evening was Prof. Harold Zink who gave a most interesting informal talk on two topics that are engaging international attention at the present time: The problem of extra-territoriality in China, and a few of the problems of international law that recently came before the institute of International law held at Briarcliff Manor, New York, and even more recently before the conference to codify international law held at The Hague. Of perhaps special interest to this group was the information concerning the nationality of women as affected by marriage and the rather complicated situation that have arisen in regard to it from the lack of codification of the laws of various countries.

After Prof. Zink's talk and the brief discussion that followed, Miss Harlow, the president, explained to the senior women the organization of A. A. U. W., and called upon the chairmen of study groups and committees to outline their work. It was brought out by Miss Vera Worth the membership chairman, that of the eighteen co-educational liberal arts colleges in Indiana, the alumnae of only six are eligible to full membership in A. A. U. W., while those of three others are eligible to associate membership. The fact that DePauw is one of the six is evidence of her high standing.

BUILDING FOR HEALTH AIDS IN AVOIDING DISEASE

It is obvious that the more stress you lay upon building for health, the greater chance the child has of avoiding disease. A wise mother, like the physician with a "health practice" who makes periodic examinations of well children, will protect her child against contacts with illness in playmates not so scrupulously cared for.

Formerly we believed that children must "catch" everything that came along. Now we anticipate chance infection, and try not only to build up a natural resistance, but to immunize against certain diseases, such as diphtheria, scarlet fever, and smallpox, in which a good serum or vaccine method has been demonstrated. It is not only the communicable disease we are afraid of, but the complications possible during the illness or following in its train—complications which may leave their mark on the sensitive body structure months and years after.

We build for good health and resistance by:

1. A balanced diet with the right proportions of fats, carbohydrates, proteins, and fluids, with all the vitamins, green pigment and mineral salts necessary for a growing structure.

2. The establishment of regular habits of elimination and the development of good muscle strength and tone, especially in the abdominal wall.

3. Hours in the fresh air and sunshine. The child clothed just enough to keep the hands and feet warm.

4. Sufficient sleep in a well-ventilated room.

5. Periodic health examinations including check-ups of the blood, to be sure there is no anemia, and of the urine and stool to detect signs of intestinal absorption which might lead to auto-intoxication.

Every sick child should be kept in bed. That is the plot, conclusion and moral of this story! I can not emphasize it too strongly. If you remember nothing else but that one statement, it will have been worth the writing. This means that children with even so-called "simple" things, such as colds, should be kept in bed during the acute stage, and certainly for stomach upsets, coughs, fever and restlessness. They should not be condemned to go to bed. They are allowed to stay peacefully, quietly vegetating, until the toxic condition's unpleasant feelings or discomforts have disappeared. This distinction between forcing and inducing the child to go to bed is real, and one can prove it by watching the reaction of the child to the proper psychological approach on the part of the mother.

But the reasons for keeping the child in bed at the onset of any illness, or until the doctor can examine him, are three-fold: To conserve his energy and his recuperative power and to give nature every chance to build toward recovery; to prevent the chilling of the body due to adjustment to the different room temperatures, and to eliminate strain of feverish overactivity of the sick child; and, finally, to avoid over-fatigue, which in itself is harmful just at the time when rest and quiet are indicated.

This article does not urge you to take undue responsibility, or make your own decisions about sick children, or do without a doctor. It stresses what seems to me to be the single, simple thing that you can do to assist the physician in the first stages of any illness, and to help your child conserve strength so that he may recover quickly.

NEW INTERURBAN SERVICE TO EXPEDITE SHIPMENTS

A new service has been inaugurated by the Terre Haute, Indianapolis and Eastern Traction Company whereby merchants or receivers of freight may place their orders for merchandise through the company's local agents.

The agents are authorized to take orders for shipments to be transported over the lines of this company to and from the various stations telephoning these orders over the private telephone lines of the company. A representative of the carrier will relay these orders they receive to the consignee or shipper. The records show that the average time after the orders are given the local agents until received by the shipper is less than ten minutes.

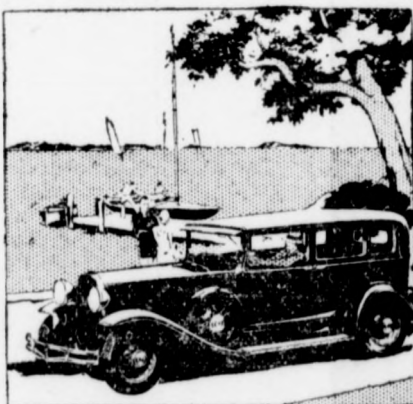

This additional service rendered patrons has greatly expedited the dispatch of freight and express shipments without any additional cost and it also means quite a saving of time to the shipper or consignee as well as a greatly improved service for the reason that when orders are so placed for shipment via express or dispatch freight, they will be received in from one to three hours after receipt at the company's express office at the shipping point, and when ordered for regular freight

THE THEATERS

VONCASTLE

Broadway Stage Hit Provides Norma Talmadge with Plot for First Talker—"New York Nights"

"New York Nights" the fast-paced drama of Broadway backstage life which will enthrall the screen at the Voncastle theatre today and Thursday presents Norma Talmadge, star of some of the screen's foremost successes in her first talking picture. "New York Nights" unfolds a tale of the show people who help to characterize city life. The pivotal character is a young chorus girl, Jill, who is the sole support of Fred, her lovable but quite irresponsible song-writing husband. Fred parries her threat to leave him by interesting Jill in his latest number. The song gives Prividi, a racketeer producer an opportunity to win his way into Jill's favor. The girl repels him however, but later, upon discovering Fred involved in a scandal with another girl, leaves her husband and encourages the racketeer's attentions.

Endless wild parties follow till one night the racketeer shoots a drunken gambler who has been over-attentive to Jill. At the court house Jill meets Fred, her husband, now but the wreck of his former self. She pities him, puts up his bail and plans to begin life with him anew.

Upon his release the racketeer learns of what has happened. The action from this point on, builds up to a terrific climax replete with surprises and strong situations.

Norma Talmadge as the hapless little chorus girl has one of the most colorful roles of her career. Her speaking voice from all accounts, is rich with feeling and tonal color and gives added strength to a characterization pulsating with reality.

Added to the bill will be another Colortone Metro Revue entitled "The Doll Shop" and a Sound Traveltalk.

GRANADA

"Three Live Ghosts" Now Showing At Granada

"You're in for the laugh of your life when you stroll through London Town with the 'Three Live Ghosts,' the rollicking play fellows who will live merry adventure at the Granada theatre, today and Thursday.

Taken from the sensational laugh hit of the same name which had Broadway holding its sides for several seasons, "Three Live Ghosts" is one of the most entertaining talking pictures to come out of Hollywood. You'll quake with laughter one minutes and be held in a vise-like grip of suspense the next as the shell-shocked "Spooky" and his merry buddies return to Old England only to discover they are supposed to be "dead". It is not long, however, before all London learns that if anything, the "ghosts" are very much alive. Matters reach a gripping climax when "Spooky" breaks into his own home, robs his wife's jewels and kidnaps his own son, having mistaken himself for someone else.

The cast includes Robert Montgomery, Beryl Mercer, Joan Bennett and many others of noted screen fame. An all-talking comedy "Crosby Corner" and The Paramount First Run News with organ accompaniment will complete the Granada's Wednesday and Thursday program.
